Camden schools: bright futures

Camden has 10 secondary schools committed to providing the borough's young people with an excellent, high quality education.

We believe there's nowhere else in London young people can receive such an excellent, individual education. This is because each of our secondary schools offers something truly unique, thanks to the quality of teaching, their prime location in the heart of London and the partnerships they've forged with world-class business, academic and cultural institutions.

Tell us what you think about Camden's secondary schools at camden.gov.uk/schoolsurvey
