

Baron Stelgratz missing. Prince Otto dead

Devastation gripped the local community last night in the little village of Nugendorf when the loyal, respected Prince Otto was found dead. It is reported that Baron Stelgratz is missing. Fortunately prince Otto was found and he is safe and well. It is alleged they went hunting two days ago but returned home unexpectedly in a most peculiar and disturbing manner.

At approximately 10:45pm last night, the royal guard on duty saw a commotion down the road. He ran there in the blink of an eye and before long he realised that the royal sledge was driven by Prince Otto. Events took a turn for the worse when eventually it was discovered that prince Otto was holding the reigns and he was stark dead. The guards urgently called the royal physician (a respected practitioner. Upon examination of the body, the royal physician found that his heart was replaced with a piece of clockwork. Despite his best efforts to revive him, the prince was sadly pronounced dead at 11:00pm last night.

When interviewed at the scene Princess Mariposa stated that she was beyond devastated and shocked. Pc Hoffmann said, "I will not sleep until the culprit is found". This is what a local Bystander said "I have just heard the news and I am startled". The royal guards appeared to be extremely distraught after the tragedy struck.

Interviewing at the scene.

Local police have said they would do anything to stop the criminal behind this case. At present, no suspects have been identified. Pc Hoffmann has reassured that he will stop at no lengths to solve the mystery.
