Dear Brecknock Families,

We are at the end of what has been a very strange week and I hope that all of you are keeping well and safe. It has been lovely to hear from so many of you, via teachers or directly. Thank you for working so hard with your children at home. I hope that this hasn't been too stressful and that you have managed to enjoy some of the learning with your child(ren).

Like I said earlier in the week we are not asking you to be a full time teacher to your children, we are simply trying to give you a framework to support them and give them some structure. The most important thing is to keep talking to your children about what is happening and making sure you have some one to one quality time with them every day. It may be that this quality time does not happen when you are trying to get them do reading, writing or school work.

Thank you to the families and children who have managed to visit the website and engage with some of the online work, I know all the teachers emailed you on Monday and hopefully called you on the telephone today. We would love to stay in contact with you so if you haven't heard from us please do email the class teacher.

If your child receives Free School Meals (FSM) you will have received an email explaining the food delivery and collect plans for Tuesday next week. If you are unsure please do call the school on Monday for details.

We have a small teaching and leadership team in school every day so if you need anything at all please do contact us – we are here for you as one big community.

Keep safe and I look forward to seeing you all soon.

Best Wishes

Cal Shaw
Headteacher
