Dear Brecknock Families,

I hope you are all well and managing in these unusual times. It has certainly been a huge adjustment for myself and the rest of the staff team here at Brecknock. We are all still trying to find ways to support you all, so do contact us if you have any great ideas for how we can do more. This week the teachers have continued to provide online learning through our website and I know many of them have also started to try out some online lessons that your children can watch.

It's weird to think that today would have been the end of spring term and I would usually be doing a big end of term assembly and celebrating the successes of the term, wishing you all a lovely holiday and hoping for some lovely Spring weather. I know that we are all feeling very strange, remember we think of you all often and can't wait for us all to be back together!

This week we have distributing food parcels to those families that are entitled to free school meals. Please if you are struggling and need any help (regardless of whether you are Free school meals or not) we are able to get hold of food supplies in school which we are distributing to families who need our help. You can email me directly and, if I can, I will arrange for some food and supplies to be delivered to your home. Email me directly on head@brecknock.camden.sch.uk

There will be no school work set for the Easter break as officially school is on holiday for two weeks. We return to home learning via our website on Monday 20th April. However, if you are stuck for things to do there are still loads of free activities on our website that you can access any of the time. I also wanted to take this opportunity to thank you all for the super high levels of engagement we have seen all over the last two weeks. My teachers have been delighted to talk to so many of you in their Friday phone calls and receive emails from you. Keep this going when we return after Easter.

Myself, Tiggy and Laura will still be in school over the two week break so if you need anything at all please do contact us. Thank you so much for all your continued support. We are here for you and want to help so please get in touch with me if you need anything: head@brecknock.camden.sch.uk

Wishing you all well,

Cal Shaw (Head Teacher)
