

Using your sketch from yesterday, and your ambitious adjectives, have a go at writing a paragraph to show where Edward is. Take a look at Zoë's model, feel free to magpie phrases but remember not to copy.

Zoë's Model

Edward plunged deeper and deeper into the never-ending water; he had no idea what he was about to see. Edward sunk into the desolate, dark water and was surrounded by slimy, charcoal green coral. The echoing ship haunted him in the distance as it moved further and further away from him into the darkness. The grey waters were lonely. Although the water was infinite, Edward felt as though it was narrowing in on him, the eerie atmosphere scared him as he felt more alone than ever before.
